Factors Leading to Yellow Stains and Color Degradation After Installation

- Placing hot pots or pans directly on the acrylic can impact its finish.
- Utilizing low-grade dipped plywood or lipping patti may cause reactions with the adhesive used.
- Using synthetic rubber adhesives, such as SR, Jat Pat, Bostic, or Heatx, etc
- Continuous exposure to high temperatures (exceeding 30°C-35°C)
- Extended exposure to sunlight can potentially change the look of the acrylic over time.

DISCLAIMER
Color variation may occur between different batches. To maintain consistency, always use sheets from the same batch. Actual product shades may slightly vary from the visuals shown in this brochure.

Reasons for Air Bubble Formation on Laminates

- Insufficient pressure during the bonding process.
- Uneven surfaces causing separation in certain areas.
- Bonding over moist substrates or without proper surface drying.
- Use of water-based synthetic adhesives (except PEVA-grade), which release excess moisture.
- Trapped moisture not released from the surface before application.
- Oversized acrylic-coated sheets leading to inefficient bonding.
